

ADF Health

Journal of the Australian Defence Health Service

SEPTEMBER 2002 — VOLUME 3: NUMBER 2

2002

Tradition and transformation

Lieutenant Colonel Jeffrey V Rosenfeld

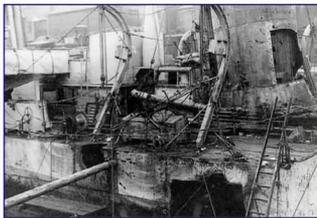

Military medical aspects of depleted uranium munitions

Alex Bordujenko

Personal protection measures against mosquitoes.

A brief history and current use of repellents by the Australian Defence Force

Major Stephen P Frances and Major Robert D Cooper

Body mass index of Australian Army reservists and the Australian population — is there a difference?

Major Anthony J Lourensen, Captain Thomas R Matthews and Dr Lin Fritschi

Training the military surgeon: Definitive Surgical Trauma Course (DSTC) and the development of a military module

Lieutenant Colonel Jeffrey V Rosenfeld

Medical support for British peacekeeping operations in Kosovo

Captain Michael C Reade

The use of bronchial provocation tests for identifying asthma.

A review of the problems for occupational assessment and a proposal for a new direction

Ruth Freed, Sandra D Anderson and Jennifer Wyndham

Book review: Obstetrics and gynaecology surgery in the Third World.

Reviewed by Lieutenant Colonel Jeffrey V Rosenfeld

Paediatrician remembers naval battle

Captain Ian S C Jones

War and medicine in the nineteenth century

Lieutenant Colonel Robert L Pearce

Air Force crests and their royal crowns

Wing Commander John Williamson

Letter: Training the physician for deployment

Lieutenant Colonel Peter A Leggat

Letter: The Western Front pilgrimage for World War I veterans, 1993

Lieutenant Colonel Roger K A Allen

Reply by Air Commodore Roger A Capps

Malaria in the ADF, January – June 2002

Lieutenant Commander Sonya Bennett

Health Service Profile: 322 Health Services Flight Tindal

Back cover

49

50

58

63

68

71

77

85

86

88

93

94

94

96

